CV DIRETTORE ARTISTICO

Ruggero Pietromarchi is a curator and promoter in the arts and music scene, as well as the founder of the cultural agency Threes Productions and the experimental music festival Terraforma. With a deep experience in art direction and curating, Pietromarchi is known for his visionary approach to cultural policy and event management, often working at the intersection of sound, visual arts, and ecological responsibility. His work extends beyond the festival format; he is also active in music consulting, providing his expertise to a range of cultural institutions, artists, and brands looking to create unique sonic and aesthetic experiences.
